

First day of Internship @Internity

About Internity

A foundation has a well-developed Ecosystem. A mixture of Coaching, workshops, leadership development, internships, and a lot more. Summer internships are offered to different domains, which will work not only on the Technical portion of the Industry but also on the self-development by writing blogs, working in a team, and mentorship sessions. The gap between Industry and Academia should be shortened, is the motto of the Foundation. Thanks for making me one of your summer interns.

Tasks Assigned

Nice, tasks were assigned, not typically related to our domains, but a good warm-up day 1 for the next 45 days.

Learnings from the tasks: Always do the work and give it your best shot, when it comes to completing the task. Be coachable. Doubts make the most out of it, never hesitate but never rely on doubts clearing person.

Karate-Kid assignment- Do what your teacher/coach says. Believe in him/her, and one will surely get the best out of it. Do or Don't Do, but never ever DO CASUALLY.

Slack Experience

It has been a good experience talking to other fellow mates, knowing about them, and about their fantasies. Got to know about different opportunities in the market/corporate world. Expecting the best in the next 45 days from this internship.
